TCP Full Spectrum Horticulture Technology

TCP's full spectrum technology provides a balanced blend of blue, green and red light to ensure plants grow healthy and strong. The distinct red peak at 660nm results in a powerful photosynthesis contribution. A blue peak shown at 440nm reduces unwanted stem elongation and leads to strong, healthy, and compact plants. Lastly, TCP's full spectrum includes a generous amount of green light, removing any need for green supplemental lighting when checking plant health.
